

Courtesy of National Conference for Community and Justice

The National Conference for Community and Justice honored two Guilford County high school counselors, Gwen Atkinson (left) of the Academy at Smith and George Rubenstein of High Point Central, at a diversity event on Sept. 9.

Counselors honored for support of NCCJ

National Conference for Community and Justice honored two Guilford County high school counselors during its fourth annual Breakfast of Champions Sept. 9.

Gwen Atkinson of the Academy at Smith and George Rubenstein of High Point Central were honored for their dedication to NCCJ, Anytown and empowering students to change the world through service and inclusion.

At the breakfast, sponsored by O. Henry Hotel, civic and business leaders across the Triad were invited to learn about the mission of NCCJ and how they can successfully leverage the changing demographics of the community.

— Staff Reports